OH NO!!!! NOT ANOTHER BLANK PAGE!!!!
WHY DIDN'T WE DO SOMETHING CONSTRUCTIVE
ON THIS PAGE...LIKE THE HISTORY OF M.O.R.E.???

The yearbook staff would like to dedicate this yearbook to Liz Puckett and Lynn Kanouse.

Liz and Lynn have been with M.O.R.E. since the start, and they have seen many changes. Yet they have chosen to be a part of M.O.R.E.

Liz and Lynn are special teachers, like every teacher at M.O.R.E. They try to help us reach our goals and make new ones.

We would just like to say "thank-you for being part of our education.

Our time together has come to an end. We will all take different paths on life's road, which may never cross again.

The many good times we've shared, as well as the bad times we've conquered, will be the roots of the memories we will look back on in years to come.

This is the time of our sunset. May our dreams come true, and at the time of our next sunrise, may we all live a happy and prosperous life.

A Christmas party was held at Casa De Los Ninos. Students and staff shared the true meaning of the season with the children.

Students at M.O.R.E. bought and wrapped Christmas gifts for the children at Casa De Los Ninos.

Everyone had a great time at the March All - School picnic, which was held at Ft. Lowell Park.

To get into the Arbor Day spirit, students, with the help of Arnie Flores, planted a tree...

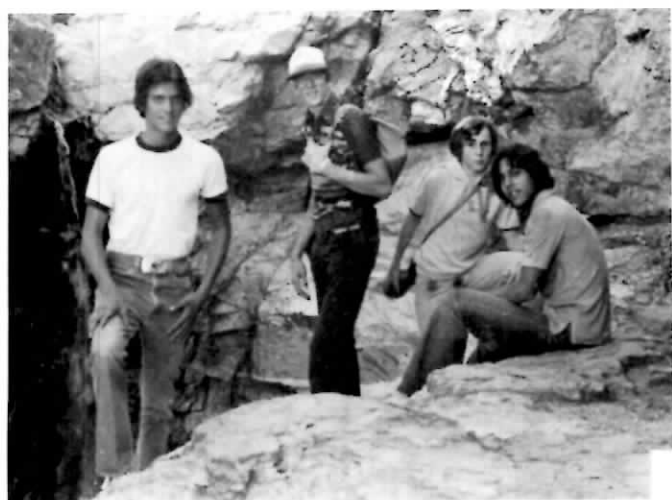

..and it really stood!!!

School Without Walls

Ed Edelbrock strums for his perceptions class.

Maggie Fitzgerald, Carol Kingsley, Scott Darr, and Lori Hornback spin their wheels at Skate Country.

Students spend many afternoons on the courts.

Joe West, Bill Perry, and other students paint desert scenes on cylinders for the Grand Opening of the new Tucson Mall.

Franz Kurath, and two of the French Intensive gardeners, Laura and Cheryl Munoz.

SENIORS

These seniors are not just any seniors, but they are Project M.O.R.E. seniors.

These are the seniors of just the third graduating class at Project M.O.R.E.

These are the seniors that make up the largest graduating class at Project M.O.R.E. ever.

But there is something else that sets these seniors apart from others. That is that they have all chosen a different road to their education.

MORE Seniors

Above, Margie Weeks, Ray Torres, John Gemetta, and Karin Sharkey are watching the otters at the zoo on a trip with the senior class "Breaking Away".

While at the zoo Ray Torres got caught, but that's okay because the keeper let him go.

Here seniors are gathered to make major decisions regarding their graduation.

Even when they are not in class, seniors at M.O.R.E. spend a lot of time together.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

I don't know what to put on this page so it's blank and you have to put something on it. And if you get real good at it next year you can be the editor of the yearbook.
